

LIFE AT GLOBAL ROYALTIES

EXPLORE THE POSSIBILITIES.

Gemologists Confounded by 32 carat, Multi-coloured “Koi” Diamond

Diamond News reports on a collection of colored diamonds being displayed at the third U.S. / International Diamond Week in Ramat Gan, Israel, that is unrivaled in the world. The stone is so unique that all gemological experts who have examined it have refused to grade it: a 32-plus-carat multi-colored stone dubbed the Koi Diamond because it resembles the striped Japanese carp fish in shape and hue.

The precious gem was originally unearthed in the Republic of Congo over a decade ago and has confounded analysts ever since. When subterranean forces churned it out millions of years ago, as fate would have it, streams of iron became trapped within the

TWITTER

Fancy colored diamonds continue their hot streak at auction, as two 5 ct.-plus pink diamonds blew away their estimates at the Christie's 3 months ago

Pink Diamonds Earn Lots of Green
wp.me/pOP4C-rn
3 months ago

It was a record-setting day on May 14 for stone, causing it to exhibit a whole range of colors, including light yellow, dark blue, black, and, primarily, orange.

For more information on acquiring natural coloured diamonds please visit our website, <http://www.globalroyalties.com>.

About these ads

coloured diamonds at Christie's auction house. with a 13 ct blue diamond selling for $23,795,372.
4 months ago

New records were set for prices for coloured diamonds last month, i.e. The Graff Vivid Yellow sold for over $16,347,847
4 months ago

BLOGROLL

Global Royalties

CATEGORIES

Events Jewellery News

Rate this:

  1 Votes

 Like

Be the first to like this.

Related